Can I be unconcerned? Denham's Sophy.
The virgin from the ground
Upstart fresh, already clos'd the wound;
And unconcern'd for all she felt before,
Precipitates her flight along the shore. Dryden.
Happy mortals, unconcern'd for more,
Confin'd their wishes to their native shore. Dryden.
We shall be easy and unconcerned at all the accidents of the way, and regard only the event of the journey. Rogers.

UNCONCERNEDLY. adv. Without interest or affection; without anxiety; without perturbation.
Not the most cruel of our conquering foes,
So unconcern'dly can relate our woes,
As not to lend a tear. Denham.
Death was denounc'd, that frightful sound,
Which ev'n the best can hardly bear:
He took the summons, void of fear,
And unconcern'dly cast his eyes around,
As if to find and dare the grieved challenger. Dryden.
Is heaven, with its pleasures for evermore, to be parted with so unconcernedly? Is an exceeding and eternal weight of glory too light in the balance against the hopeless death of the atheist, and utter extinction. Bentley.

UNCONCERNEDNESS. n. f. Freedom from anxiety, or perturbation.
No man, having done a kindness to another, would think himself justly dealt with, in a total neglect, and unconcerned-
